

IN HONOR OF MAIA SCUIPAC

- WHEREAS, Maia Scuipac currently serves as the Human Exploitation and Trafficking (H.E.A.T.) Watch Program Coordinator for the Alameda County District Attorney's Office; and
- WHEREAS, Maia is the single point of contact for the efforts of nine Bay Area counties to combat domestic sex trafficking (which predominately affects young girls), and through her direct contact with 300 clients who are at risk or involved in commercial exploitation, she has been able to impact many lives; and
- WHEREAS, Maia founded Modern Day Slavery Radio in 2010 and launched the Youth Action Network, a community awareness campaign that provides human trafficking prevention for students, parents and schools in the community.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT I, TOM BATES, Mayor of the City of Berkeley, do hereby honor for her many contributions to the city and the community.

Maia Scuipac

Tom Bates
Tom Bates
Mayor

March 11, 2014